OPERATION IDENTIFICATION INVENTORY RECORD

El Cerrito Citizens' Crime Prevention Committee

Personal Identification Number

Personal property marked with your individual identification, preferably your driver's license number, is harder for burglars to sell and easier for police to recover for you. The identification can also give law enforcement officials the positive evidence they need to prove theft.

Identify and list on this form valuables most likely to be stolen such as radios, TV's, stereos, cameras, guns, office equipment, tools and sports equipment. Engrave your driver's license on these items in an easily accessible place, but avoid marking on removable parts such as lids, doors, decals, or ID plates. On small items such as jewelry, silverware, and on unique or easily damaged items such as furs, rugs, paintings, or antiques, take a close-up flash photo, noting designs and markings, and file the pictures with this form. Some property, such as furs, clothing, rugs and paintings, can be marked by using an indelible pen. When the form has been completed, make a duplicate copy and file the two copies in separate safe places.
