This information, provided by the El Cerrito Historical Society, is based on the build dates in the Contra Costa County Records. Some of the buildings have been modified such that character-defining features may no longer be evident.